

Strolling Around Kyoto: Travel Beautiful 4 Seasons of Kyoto, Japan

Hello my dear friends all over the world
Kyoto became the capital of Japan about 1200 years ago. At first, Tenno emperors governed the country, but gradually political power passed into the hands of nobility or warriors. With that, Kyoto lost the function that was the center of the politics. But still emperors kept living in the imperial palace what we call Goshō. A lot of temples and shrines were built to guard the palace and to pray for the prosperity of emperors as well. Emperors required the best things in their daily life of food, clothing and shelter. Necessarily everything was refined in accordance with his request. The culture has been developed, refined and spread down to among the citizens lives, which were destined to refine the Kyotoian public life. Kyotoian culture is also the essence and flower of that traditional Japanese culture. I could say there lies every Japanese traditional culture in Kyoto. It is particular even about the details with no compromise. Its attitude has been succeeded to the present young peoples spirit, for example, in their business of restaurants or bars. Mr. Donald Lawrence Keene, a Japanologist from the United States, says, If you want to know what Japan is, all you should do is come to Kyoto. Kyoto has everything about Japan. In addition, 4 seasons in Kyoto are amazing. You would give a gasp of their beauty; pink cherry blossoms in spring, evergreen leaves in summer, red and yellow leaves in fall, snow white in winter. Amazing are not only the beauty of nature untouched by humans, but also the refinement of the Japanese gardens in the temples or shrines. Furthermore, many, many different festivals with the history of over 1000 years. It was also in Kyoto that dishes coming before tea ceremony what we call Kaiseki Ryōri, at the top of Japanese traditional cooking, was developed. Now it is at the peak of all Japanese cuisine. Unfortunately even we

Japanese are forgetting this beautiful traditional Japanese culture. The beauty of the old Japanese living style must be uncomfortable for the young Japanese. In the digital age, such manners would be too irrational or unrealistic to understand; I'm afraid. Well, how come many people around the world get attracted to Kyoto? I believe the reason will be that the digital generation might be seeking after an oasis somewhere which could heal ourselves. I am proud to say Kyoto is a healing itself. Life is short. Still, we have time to come and stay in Kyoto for a night or two. Before you visit Kyoto actually, why don't you let me show you around Kyoto in this book? Let's stroll around Kyoto together.
